WINCO GENERATORS - www.wincogenerator.com

Winco HPS12000HE Tri-Fuel Portable Generator

This unit was built with versatility in mind. It is the only Tri-Fuel capable, Honda-powered generator on the market that DOES NOT void the engine warranty. It's constructed with the same engine and generator end we use on our Industrial WL12000HE. Don't rely on a modified generator to have the flexibility of switching between gasoline, natural gas, and LP gas. WINCO has been offering our Tri-Fuel generators since 1984. You will be able to easily run essential items like pumps, sump pumps, furnaces, TV's, and air conditioning units. This unit comes standard with the 4 wheel dolly kit.

FEATURES

- Honda GX630 Engine - You expect the best, you get the best. The Honda GX630 is better than ever. Including improved adaptability, quieter operation, and greater fuel efficiency.
- Tri-Fuel - Designed to easily transition between three fuels; natural gas, LP Gas and gasoline.
- Low Oil Protection - In the event there is a low oil level, the engine will shut down to protect the engine from damage.
- Sturdy Wrap-Around Welded Tubular Cradle - Winco uses 14 gauge tubular steel for dependable durability.
- 15 Gallon Fuel Tank - The EPA-approval steel fuel tank design eliminates hydrocarbon emissions.
- Premium Breakers - Providing clear and instant identification of a tripped circuit.
- 100% Load Tested - Every generator is fully tested prior to leaving Winco's facility.

WINCO Generators

Why You Need a Generator during a Hurricane

GENERATORS

It is that time of year again when major storms and hurricanes are a threat to homes and businesses. As a distributor for WINCO Generators, we know how crucial it is to have power up and running. We have been selling high end quality WINCO generators for 30+ years. WINCO is a small, family/veteran-owned business that manufactures in rural Minnesota. Here is part of an article I found on why backup power is so important:

Over the past few years tropical storms and major weather have become much more common, and have put many homeowners on guard. This is good because caution and preparation are the keys to a safe home.

Why Backup Power Is So Important

There's convenience, of course. Keeping your lights on, HVAC systems running, and television in working order are all great benefits to being equipped with a generator system. But in the end the true and vital benefits are those based in both safety and in cost prevention.

Generators add considerable safety benefits to an equipped home. Lights on means no slipping or falling, and being able to react with accuracy in a time of crisis. Keeping food from spoiling is important, too, both in a cost perspective and a practical one. And televisions and radios in working order help you to keep tuned-in to crucial details of the current situation.

But the bottom line is this: you never know how long you'll have to go without power.

Outages in Florida for example can be as brief as a couple of hours, but they're similarly likely to be out for days, weeks, or even more if local power supply has been damaged severely. During this time life must go on, and that means cooking, cleaning, being comfortable, and being capable of performing simple daily tasks, all of which require electrical power.

A portable generator is a really decent idea, and can help you keep a vital part of your home working under poor conditions. But a whole-home generator system is 10 steps better. Whole-home systems can power lights, HVAC, kitchens, even more—helping you stay plugged up and distress-free even in the worst weather. And around here (especially in recent years), that means a lot.

The Benefits of a Whole-Home Generator

With a new whole-home standby generator you can expect a lot of benefits:

- Instant access to electrical power. A whole-home system is linked to your home and set up to operate either completely automatically and instantly, or at the mere flick of a switch. No time wasted and no stress, just quick access.
- Safe power. standby generators burn clean fuel and operate without you having to manually hook up and power them, saving you the risks of dealing with dangerous electricity in the middle of a major storm.
- Functional longevity. Power going to be out for a couple of hours? days? More? doesn't matter! As long as the system stays fueled, you stay in electrical access for as long as you need it.

Go to www.wincogenerator.com or call 800-328-0328 to find the generator that best fits your needs.
